

With the Quarantine Creations exhibit you can share what creative juices were flowing when each of us was asked to stay home to stay safe. We are sure to see some very creative ideas and projects from every artist and creative person.

The Corona virus has forced governments to cancel mass gatherings, classes in schools, sporting events, and much more to halt the spread of the virus. This exhibit is how you can show your work and be proud of what you did while staying home for all of those days.

How did you change the world? What did you create? What new ideas, technique or medium did you work with? Some great artists have managed to change the world for the better from their quarantined rooms or studios. So let's see how you changed your world. Even if it was for your family, the community or beyond....you've changed the world.

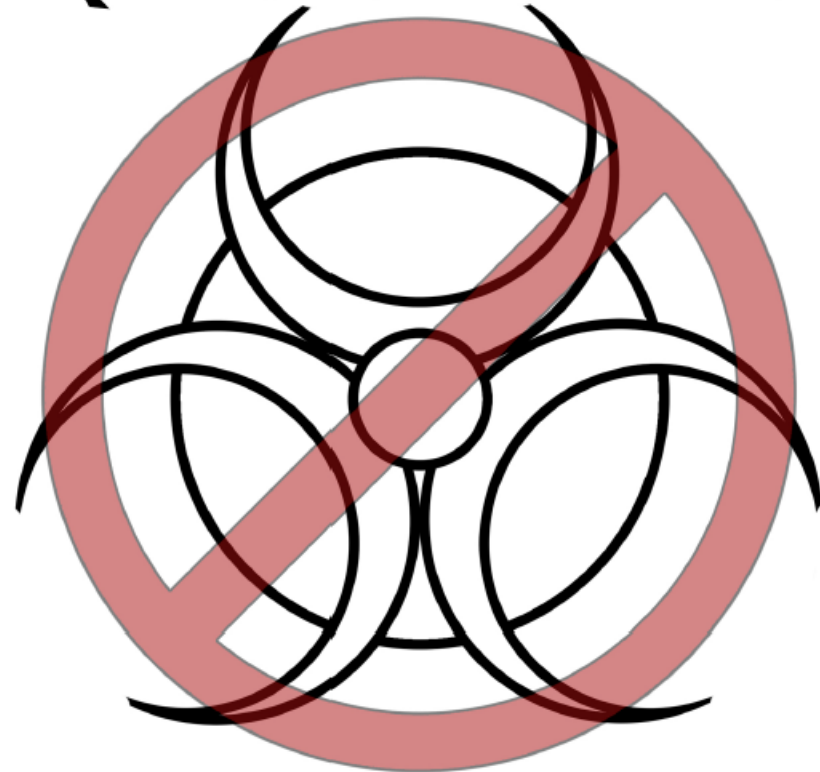

This exhibit is going to be an exciting "reopening" of our gallery and can only be held once, so let's make it an exhibit that Tiffin will not soon forget.
